

The Greatest Threat to Our Planet is the Belief that Someone Else Will Save It

When it comes to save our precious little green planet, the Earth, have you asked yourselves, what can you do and how can you save it? What is the tiniest little effort or thing that you can do, or force yourselves to do which can contribute to save your haven? I admit, even I, a tiny little person on the planet, do not even bother to throw my rubbish according to the several types of recycling bins. I used to have a belief in my mind, a belief of someone else will do that for me. Out of the seven billion humans living on earth, there must be at least half of them trying to save the world, right? Why would I waste time on such thing?

Well, that was the silly me. Now, no matter how small the effort, I will do it just for the sake of saving the Earth. I used to believe that I do not need to contribute because there is someone doing it. Now, no more. If people keep having these believes in their minds, they do not deserve to live on this beautiful, magnificent, and full of gorgeous lives planet. I do not intend to judge anyone but, if you have the ability to save the Earth, why not do it? Why does someone believe that he or she does not need to do anything because there will always be someone else? Do you not actually know that, this kind of belief is the greatest threat to our planet?

Whenever there are people trying to save the planet, there are always people who are destroying it. Between these two, there are people who do not even care at all. Our planet is dying, trees are getting less and less. Trees need a very long time to grow. The animals are losing their home. They are forced to leave their habitat and kept in captivity. Some have lost their teeth, claws and other body parts that are necessary to protect themselves. Worse of all, they are being smuggled away to become someone else's pets, and some are being poached just for their organs and horns for the making of medicines which are not even prove to be useful in any medical records. Our next generations are slowly moving into the new age, where everything will be replaced by technology. They are starting to ignore the things that our precious Earth has given us. Our Earth is starting to look less like a green planet, and becoming more like an inhabitable world. Soon, we will have to abandon our home, our planet, and search for a new home, a new planet.

It is the time to wake up, to act and to save our planet. Stop having the belief someone else will save the planet for you. It is the time for you to repay the earth by saving it.

Lee Zhi Guang

Motto of Life

“Whenever you are on the edge of giving up, convince yourself that the result will be worth it.”

